

CROWDS COMING TO SALT LAKE

Indications That G. A. R. Encampment Will Be Largest Ever Held.

PREPARATIONS NECESSARY

LATE LETTERS PREDICT STILL GREATER ATTENDANCE.

Every indication points toward prospects that Salt Lake City will be called upon to exert herself to the limit to entertain the crowd of visitors planning to attend the Grand Army encampment here in August. Those in charge of encampment plans are constantly getting information and correspondence that causes them to raise their estimates regarding the probable attendance, and the railroad representatives are also receiving information of a like nature almost daily.

That the selection of this city as the place for holding the forty-third encampment has proved popular with the old veterans as well as the many others who will take advantage of the special rates has already fully been demonstrated.

Regarding the prospects for a very large attendance, The Herald is in receipt of the following letters, which are self-explanatory:

Warning to Be Ready.

To the executive committee and citizens of Salt Lake, Utah: I notice you are preparing for 5,000 attendance during the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. I warn you to be prepared to take care of 10,000 or more. You never had a G. A. R. national encampment before and when the encampment at Toledo in September, 1908, voted almost unanimously to go to your attractive city that meant something big for you to take care of.

Saratoga, N. Y., had had big national conventions and wished to entertain the national G. A. R. encampment in 1907, and got it. She had not reckoned with what was coming and was completely overwhelmed for quarters to put the old veterans in, and had to press the school houses into service and most all dwelling houses, and then could not quite do as she wished to do.

Just count how many of us old G. A. R. members there are, and when something as new and attractive as Salt Lake City is in sight the veterans are on your strong, and the rear guard, or support, will come to 50,000 more. You will have your hands full to house and feed them.

I have attended almost all the national encampments of the G. A. R. and now believe our forty-third encampment will outnumber any of them. The railroad have given us a lower rate than we have had for many years. The old boys are coming 100,000 strong.

The Conflict in Dates.

Editor Salt Lake Herald:

Dear Sir:—The Herald of Wednesday, Feb. 17, I note "Dates Conflict with G. A. R. Encampment" and read with interest the reply to Mr. Harris' letter to Mr. Munroe, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Spokane, calling his attention to the fact that dates for the seventeenth session of the National Encampment of the G. A. R., Aug. 6 to 14; also Mr. Harris' reply.

They cannot change their date as the time was set last December and Munroe asks us to do so. The date is set for Nov. 1, ask was not our date set last November ahead of his, and, besides, there will be 100 to his ten affected if we change. Also the date of the encampment is the forty-third, while his is only the seventeenth, and our rates are made. If he does not do so, he is not a G. A. R. member. He hurts Utah and Yukon-Alaska exposition. He can change his. We can't and won't. Yours truly,

W. A. OGDEN, Senior Vice Commander, Department of Kansas, G. A. R., Ness City, Kan., Feb. 25, 1909.

SPLENDID RESULTS SHOWN IN THE Y. W. C. A. REPORT

The third annual report of the Young Woman's Christian association has just been published and in a neat little booklet it places before the public a concise report of the work done by the organization in the past year. Beginning with a word of greeting from the president, Mrs. E. B. Critchlow, the book embraces reports from the general secretary, the travelers' aid, the social committee, the house committee and the treasurer. Briefly stated, the report shows 50 members, including the active and sustaining members. It shows 30 girls cared for in the boarding home during the year and 119 transient guests during that time.

The report from the travelers' aid branch is most encouraging, showing that those young women have met some 4,000 trains and put hope and courage into many hundreds of hearts. A word of appreciation for the newspapers, which furnished the station rest rooms, is not wanting. The report of the finance committee is of interest to all, showing, but the whole little book is filled with the hopefulness of earnest work.

WHOLE FAMILY SENT TO DENVER

Juvenile Court Gets Big Worry Off Its Hands—Cases Heard Yesterday.

Judge E. G. Gowans of the juvenile court held his second busy court session since his return from the east yesterday. He heard ten cases, sending three boys to the Utah industrial school, one to the state institution at Ogden, placing three more on the delinquent list and arranging for a whole family to be sent to Colorado, where it belongs.

Joseph Manning, aged 17 years, was the lad sent to the state industrial school. He has been generally incorrigible and his family has been unable to control him.

It was upon the request of his mother that he was committed. One boy, 10 years of age, was handed over to the Utah school for habitual truancy, and another, aged 15 years, whose parents have been unable to keep him at home, is to be kept for a season in the same school. Two boys who were habitual frequenters of pool rooms were placed on probation.

The Olmstead family have been a source of worry to the juvenile court of Salt Lake for some time. The mother, Eula Olmstead, was found rooming with a man on West Fourth South street, while her daughter, Hazel, was found with a young man named Charles Cooley in an abandoned room as his wife. Cooley is serving a six-month term for his offense. The girl was placed with a private family. She was also the oldest son, Frank, aged 18 years. The younger children, George, 3 years, and Margaret, 8 years, were placed in the state street orphanage. Later the oldest girl and the boy, Frank, again brought themselves to the notice of the court by returning to their former mode of life.

The grandparents of the children expressed a desire to have the family with them in Denver, and at the instance of Judge Gowans the county gladly furnished transportation to the Queen City, where, if the young people do not improve in morals, they will be under the jurisdiction of Judge Ben E. Lindsay, who will be notified that they are coming. The whole outfit left by the Denver & Rio Grande yesterday afternoon.

DESERTED WIVES SEEK DIVORCES

Only One Husband in Four Gave Any Support—One Wife Is Accused.

Four deserted and neglected wives and one deserted husband filed suits for divorce in the district court yesterday. The complaints are strangely similar in all the cases.

Kate M. Silver is the only one of the four who says her husband did pay anything for his family's support. She claims her husband, George D. Silver, absolutely refuses to pay more than $2 a month for the support of their two children, Gordon C., aged 3 years, and Stanley Hall Silver, 4 years, and will contribute nothing for her support.

He earns, she says, from $100 to $120 a month as traveling agent for Herbert Bros. of Salt Lake City. For more than a year she has been compelled to eke out a meager support by her own labor, and is now earning $20 a month. They were married in Salt Lake City Dec. 17, 1902.

Jennie M. Dunklee charges simple failure to provide against Allen G. Dunklee, whom she married Jan. 31, 1902. There are three children, all girls, aged, respectively, 4, 2 and 1. She claims he has deserted her, and she has since failed to provide for the support of the children. They were married in Salt Lake City Nov. 14, 1907, and have one child, a girl, aged 4 months, whose custody she asks, with $20 a month alimony.

Sarah Heffernan says that Frank E. Heffernan left her without cause in July of 1907 and has since remained away from her without her consent. They were married in Salt Lake City Feb. 1, 1903. She asks, besides the divorce, for the custody of their one child, a girl, aged 2 years.

Paul E. Winterowd is the deserted husband. He says he was married to Clara B. Winterowd at Marshalltown, Ia., on Nov. 21, 1905, and lived with her until March 23, 1906, conducting himself all the time as a loving husband. On the latter date she willfully abandoned him and remains away from him without his consent.

UTAH STUDENT LEADS CORNELL'S VICTORIOUS DEBATING TEAM

In the intercollegiate debate last night between Cornell and Columbia, Cornell was declared to be the winner. Both sides had strong teams and the arguments were ably presented. The question was, "Resolved, That legislation should be directed toward the ultimate abandonment of the protective tariff." Cornell had the negative.

The foregoing is of particular interest to Utah, for the reason that Harold M. Stephens, son of Frank B. Stephens, was leader of the Cornell team. Mr. Stephens is a graduate of the Salt Lake High school. He attended the state university two years and then entered Cornell as a junior. During his sophomore year here, he was president of the student body, and at a time when the relations between the student body and the faculty were very much strained his cool judgment and tact secured a satisfactory adjustment. He was recently made a member of Phi Beta Kappa, an honor fraternity, membership in which is attained by reason of high scholarship, only about 12 per cent of each senior class securing it.

Dale Parke, a Utah university graduate, and now a law senior at Pennsylvania, was leader of the Pennsylvania team which debated with Cornell. Both Stephens and Parke are members of the Delta Chi fraternity, and local members are jubilant over the honors that have come to their brothers.

Salt Lake Teachers' Tribute to Memory of Joseph Oberndorfer

Judge H. P. Henderson, president of the board of education, has appointed Byron Cummings, Mathoniah Thomas and J. T. Mr. Oberndorfer enjoyed a high degree of popularity with the teachers of the city schools, in whose work he took a never-failing interest. At a meeting called for the occasion Saturday, the following resolutions were adopted:

BUTTER SAID TO BE MISBRANDED

Jensen Company Charged With Selling Product Bearing the Elgin Label.

Walter J. Frazier, city food inspector, has laid a complaint against the Jensen Creamery company. This complaint, which has issued by the county attorney Saturday, charges the company with having violated the Utah statute by selling butter illegally branded on Feb. 20. The butter in question is stated in the complaint to have been the label of manufacture of the Elgin Creamery & Dairy Supply company, Salt Lake City, Utah, which statement is declared to be "false and misleading, and is willfully and unlawfully used with the intent to deceive and mislead purchasers."

There are two samples of the illegally labeled butter which have been placed in evidence. One of these bears the label: "Pasteurized Butter. Empire Creamery company, Fairview, Utah." On this is another label reading: "Fifteen and one-half ounces. Manufactured by the Elgin Dairy Creamery & Supply company, Salt Lake City, Utah."

The other sample purchased at the same time is labeled: "Best Butter Made. Elgin. Fresh Churned Butter. Elgin Dairy Creamery & Supply company, Salt Lake City, Utah."

The name of the Jensen Creamery company does not appear on either of the labels.

"We are being unjustly prosecuted in this matter," said W. F. Jensen, manager of the Jensen Creamery company. "Our course of butter did not bear our label, as we did not manufacture the same, but were acting only as jobbers and bought the butter from the Elgin Creamery & Dairy Supply company. This we had a right to do, and we were absolutely within the law."
